DEATH OF HORACE GREELEY.

Many of our readers will be severely shocked, as we were, to hear of the sudden and unexpected death of this the greatest of American Journalists and Philosophers—one who has been so prominently before the country, for a quarter of a century—on last Friday evening, at the residence of a friend, a few miles from New York city The report had gone forth that his nervous system had been very much prostrated, but very few, if any, anticipated so sad and sudden a termination of one of the finest intellects of this age. In him we have truly lost one of the brightest minds that the country has ever produced; one of the most indefatigable workers known to this generation, and one of the greatest journalists of the 19th century.

The Tribune of Saturday morning contains the following in regard to his last few days and hours:

"So far as any of his associates knew, Mr. Greeley was in almost as good health as usual when, on the day after the election, he wrote the card announcing his resumption of the editorial charge of the Tribune. His sleeplessness was known to have become greatly worse, but for years he had suffered more or less from the same difficulty. It is now clear that sufficient allowance had not been made for the intense strain upon him throughout the Summer, and especially during the last month of his wife's illness. It soon became evident that his strength was unequal to the hard task to which he set himself. He wrote only three or four careful articles, no one of them half a column in length. The most notable, perhaps was that entitled "Conclusions," wherein he summed up his views of the canvass. In all he furnished less than three and a half columns after his return, contributing to only four issues of the paper. Two or three times he handed his assistant short articles saying, "There is an idea worth using, but I haven't felt able to work it out properly. You had better put it in shape."

"At last, on Tuesday, the 12th inst., he abandoned the effort to visit the office regularly, and sent for Dr. Krackowizer, the family physician of Mr. A. J. Johnson, the family with whom he was a guest, and in whose house his wife had died. Every exort was made to induce sleep, but he grew steadily worse, until it became evident that his case was critical. Dr. Geo. C. S. Choate and others were then called in consultation, and finally it was decided to take him to Dr. Choate's residence, two or three miles distant from Mr. Greeley's own country home at Chappaqua. Here he received the unintermitting attention of Dr. Choate; and here Dr. Brown-Sequard, Dr. Brown and others were also called in consultation. The Insomnia had developed into inflamation of the brain, and under this the venerated patient rapidly sank. At times he was delirious; at other times as clear-headed as ever. He lost flesh and strength with startling rapidity; and in a few days the possibility of his speedy death forced itself into unwilling recognition. It was not, however, until Thursday last that his associates and family brought themselves to admit it, and even then they still clung to their faith in the vigor of his constitution.

"On Wednesday night he failed very rapidly. Thursday afternoon and evening he seemed somewhat easier. During Thursday night he slept very uneasily, muttering occasionally and frequently raising his right hand. Toward morning he was more quiet, and between 8 and 9 o'clock fell into a nearly unconcious condition, which continued, with intervals, through the day. His extremities were cold all day, and there was no pulse at the wrist. The action of the heart was very intermittent, and was constantly diminishing in force. He had not asked for water or been willing to drink it, since his stay at Dr. Choate's, but during Friday he asked for it frequently. On the whole he suffered little, and seemed to have no more than the ordinary restlessness which accompanies the last stage of disease. He made occasional exclamations, but many of them, in consequence of his extreme weakness and apparent inability to finish what he began, were unintelligible. About noon, however, he said quite distinctly and with some force, "I know that my Redeemer liveth." During the day he recognized various people, his daughter many times, the members of his houshold at Chappaqua, Mr. John R. Stuart, and Mr. Reid. Up to within half an hour of the end he occasionally manifested in various ways his conciousness of what was going on around him, and even answered in monosyllables, and intelligently, questions addressed to him. About half-past three he said, very distinctly, "It is done;" and, beyond Yes or No in answer to questions, this was his last utterance.

"His younger daughter, Miss Gabrielle, was with him through Thursday evening. Throughout Friday the elder daughter, Miss Ida, was in constant attendance, as she had been during the whole of his illness, and of Mrs. Greeley's before him. Other members of his Chappaqua household were present, with Mr. and Mrs. Stuart and a few other friends. Nothing that science or affection could suggest was wanting to ease the last hours. The wintry night had fairly set in, when the inevitable hour came. Without, sleighs were running to and fro, bearing to Chappaqua, the nearest telegraph station, the latest bulletins which the thousand of anxious hearts in the great city, near-by, kept demanding. Within, the daughter and a few others stood near the dying man; in the adjoining room sat one or two more friends and the physician. At ten minutes before 7 o'clock the watchers drew back in reverent stillness from the bed side. The great Editor was gone,—"in peace after so many struggles; in honor after so much obloquy.',

HON. JOHN SCOTT.

We see the name of this gentleman mentioned in connection with a seat in the Cabinet of President Grant. If the President intends to make a change among his official counsellors, and to recognize the claims of the Banner Republican State of the Union, he could find no more patriotic and capable gentleman than the Hon. John Scott. But should the President place some other gentleman in that position, the people of Pennsylvania will consult their best interests in keeping Mr. Scott in the present position which he has filled with such credit to himself and honor to the State.

We were among the first to advocate this gentleman's election to the United States Senate, a few years ago, and we have always admired his course in that body. But, we differed from him in his action in regard to local political affairs. We have since become convinced that Mr. Scott was right, and that trickery and fraud should be exposed and crushed whether it exists in our own party or in any other. Mr. Scott took an active part in the late contest, and contributed greatly to the grand success. He deserves the approbation and respect of the whole party, and the people of his native State will support him either in the Cabinet or in the Senate.—Hollidaysburg Register.

☞ Several weeks ago we assured our readers that in a few issues we would complete our engagement for the publication of the General Laws of the United States with the State Department, and that we would then be able to give them more reading matter. We were badly deceived at the time in regard to the number then on hand, but we now take pleasure in assuring our readers that they cannot occupy more than three issues after this issue.

News and Notes from Washington.

The Re-assembling of Congress—The President's Message—Annual Reports of Departments—Significant Evidences of National Development—The President and Civil Service.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27, '72.

MEETING OF CONGRESS.

The last session of the 42d Congress will assemble on Monday. Quite a number of Senators and members of the House of Representatives have already arrived in the city, and some of the committees are busy preparing work for the session. The House Appropriation Committee are prepared to report the estimates for 1873–4. The total estimates for the Government, including interest on the public debt, will not vary much from those of the current year, and will amount in the aggregate to about $300,000,000. There is a reduction in nearly all the estimates grouped under the legislative, executive and judicial departments of the Government; but this decrease will not appear in the sum total in consequence of the increased number of Representatives in the 43d Congress. There will also be an increase for the same reason in the military and naval academy appropriations, the number of cadets, independent of those appointed at large, corresponding with the number of Representatives.

The revenues, it is estimated, will be fifty to one hundred millions in excess of the appropriations. This will be applied to the reduction of the public debt.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

A rough draft of the President's message to Congress was examined by the Cabinet at its regular semi-weekly meeting yesterday. The message congratulates the country upon the bloodless victories achieved under the Treaty of Washington. It refers to Cuba and the struggles of the insurgents, but it proposes no change of policy or action on the part of the United States Government in reference to that unhappy country. Dr. Howard's case, and the existence of the Spanish claims commission are passed over with brief comment. Reference is made to Mexico, and the report of the commission appointed to investigate the outrages on the Texas border is recommended to the attention and action of Congress. The Vienna Exposition and the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia are referred to in terms of commendation. The gratifying condition of the national finances, and the public credit at home and abroad; the efficiency of the foreign policy; the general prosperity of the nation during the past year, and the return of the Government operations practically to the basis of that prior to the war, are among the leading features of the message. The message will not be printed nor its full contents be publicly known until it goes to Congress.

THE ANNUAL REPORTS.

The annual reports of the heads of departments are all in the Government printing offices, and will be ready for delivery on the assembling of Congress. I was shown the proof-sheets of some of them to-day and was promised copies on Friday—two days hence—when such portions of them as may be readable in your locality will be culled and forwarded in subsequent dispatches. The following brief mention of facts presented in some of them must suffice for to-day:

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY

In the forthcoming annual report of the Secretary of the Navy important suggestions will be made in reference to reducing the expenses of the navy and increasing its efficiency. The report will recommend that no money be expended hereafter in the rebuilding and repair of old vessels, as larger sums are absorbed in that way than would be necessary to construct new vessels of approved models. None but first-class vessels should be kept on hand. Old vessels and useless materials, which have accumulated to the value of millions of dollars should be disposed of at auction before they become worthless. Only ten of the fifty iron clads on hand are now of any value, and it is suggested that the others be disposed of at auction or private sale.

REPORT FROM THE BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION.

The report of the Chief of the Bureau of Construction, accompanying the report of the Secretary of the Navy, will recommend that compound engines be placed in all the navy steamers. The insufficiency of the present naval force is shown by the fact that on the occasion of the recent difficulties at Havana there were but five available vessels to send to the Cuban waters, while the Spanish government had twenty-three in the Gulf and vicinity. A bill is now pending before the House appropriating three million dollars for building ten sloops of war. In view of the facts concerning the insufficiency of the navy, efforts will be made in Congress to cause its thorough reorganization.

THE WAR DEPARTMENT REPORTS.

The reports and sub-reports of the War Department bureaus again exhibit a marked improvement in the dispatch of unfinished and current business under the various administrative reforms introduced by the present Secretary of War, especially in the accounting and property divisions.

REPORT OF THE POSTMASTER GENERAL.

The annual report of Postmaster General Cresswell will show a large increase in the business and cash receipts of the Department during the past year. The development of the postal service, at home and international, during the last ten years, has been enormous. For example, the cash receipts of the office have grown up $8,012,549.56 in 1862 to $20,000,000, omitting fractions, during the past year. It may be urged by the reader that some of the southern postoffices made no returns during the war; but the annual revenues were always under ten million dollars until 1863, when they reached $11,163,789.59. Now that amount is nearly doubled.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.

Secretary Delano's report is nearly completed. It is lengthy, and largely devoted to summarizing the work of the Land, Pension, Patent, Indian and Educational Bureaus, all under the Interior Department. The Indian policy will be shown to have so far promised ultimate success, while all the other branches have been largely developed during the past fiscal year.

THE PATENT OFFICE REPORT.

Like most of the annual reports for the fiscal year, that of the Patent office indicates a large increase of business. The most astounding fact, however, is that during the last decade the annual issue of patents and the general business of the office has been more than quadrupled. For example, ten years ago the annual issue of patents was between three and four thousand. During the last fiscal year the number of patents issued amounted to 13,620. Since the Patent Laws have been modified, so as to place foreigners on an equality with American cititizens, in obtaining patents and transacting business with the office, the number of foreign applicants for patents has increased. But the main cause of the enormous increase of business is attributed to the rapid expansion of the manufacturing interests of the country and the general demand for new and improved machinery. The office is self-sustaining by the patent fees, which are quite low; and from the surplus of past years the Commissioner has turned over nearly a million of dollars into the United States Treasury.

THE ARMY MEDICAL MUSEUM.

The annual report shows that the visitors to the Medical Museum, during the past year, have numbered 17,000, many having come from a distance to obtain information not attainable elsewhere. The Museum was established during the war, and contains a vast number of suggestive specimens of limbs and parts of the human body. The collections continue to grow in variety and value, and the institution assumes the outline of a notable national establishment.

HEALTH OF THE ARMY.

The annual report of the Surgeon General shows an improved state of the death and sick rate; and for the first time since the introduction of colored regiments into the regular army, under the act of 1866, the sanitary returns of those regiments show a less ratio of death and mortality than among the white troops.

THE PENSION OFFICE REPORT.

The annual report of Gen. J. H. Baker, Commissioner of Pensions, will be ready on Saturday. It shows that at the close of the fiscal year there were on file 37,176 unadjudicated claims of invalids; 33,762 claims of widows and dependant relatives, and 11,580 claims of soldiers and widows of the war of 1812, making a total of 82,518 claims. The restoration of invalids to health, the re-marriage of soldiers' widows, the arrival of pensioned orphans of deceased soldiers at 16 years of age when their names are dropped from the Pension rolls, and the death record, has taken nearly 10,000 names from the Pension rolls during the last fiscal year, against 8,251 for the previous year. The number will increase yearly, and more rapidly as we recede from the years of the war The expenditures of the current year, in pensions, will be about $33,000,000. For the next year the estimate of the Commissioner is $30,480,000.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE CIVIL SERVICE.

In answer to an applicant for a position yesterday, the President stated that no office holders would be removed except for inefficiency or malfeasance in office, and that vacancies would be filled by the next in rank qualified. N. H. P.

Thanksgiving at the National Capital—Divine Services—The Newsboys' Dinner—Congress—Renovating the Capitol—Proposed Change in the Mode of Working the U. S Supreme Court—The Inter-Ocean Canal—Postal, Signal Corps, National Banks and Civil Service Notes—Society in Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
Thanksgiving Evening,
November 28, 1872.

THANSGIVING DAY.

We were favored at the National Capital with a real "Indian Summer" day for our Thanksgiving. The evening is equally pleasant, and Pennsylvania Avenue presents a magnificent display of fine horses and carriages, while the side-walks on this and other avenues and streets are lined with ladies and gentlemen promenading in their holiday attire.

THE FEATURES OF THE DAY.

In compliance with usage and the request of our Chief Magistrate religious services were held in many of the churches in the forenoon. Appropriate sermons were preached, generally to small audiences. from the following and similar texts: "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord, and the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance." "Let the heavens be glad and let the earth rejoice, and let men say among the nations The Lord reigneth" "It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord." "O give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good and His mercies endureth forever." The chime of bells on one of the central churches played a number of national and other appropriate airs after the close of church services.

THE NEWSBOYS' DINNER.

Over three hundred and fifty newsboys were treated to a more than sumptuous dinner at 4 o'clock in "Linden Hall"—the large lecture hall in the Young Mens' Christian Association building. The dinner was prepared under the auspices of the Young Mens' Christian Association, aided by the bountiful donations of the citizens. Six long tables were prepared and beautifully and bountifully spread, the bill of fare embracing 20 roast turkeys, roast beef and pork, boiled ham, vegetables; mince, apple and pumpkin pies, cake of all kinds and a score of other equally good things. The boys, having first procured tickets on an endorsement from the newspaper offices that they were "in the newspaper business," assembled in the main body of the hall, where they remained quietly seated, clean, neat and in their best attire, until two short and appropriate addresses were made, when, at the announcement being made, they marched in single file and took their places around the tables on the stage, which was enlarged for the occasion. After singing the stanza "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," and imploring the Divine blessing, the little fellows seized their knives and went in for a good "square meal." There were about equal numbers of colored and white, but no distinction on account of color or nativity was made or any necessity for a difference felt, certainly not by the boys themselves. A band of music, provided by newspaper proprietors, played during the dinner hour. After dinner the boys "scattered," to return at half past seven to an intellectual and an amusing entertainment prepared especially for their benefit. Ladies and gentlemen filled the hall on both occasions. A small four page newspaper was prepared, filled with appropriate Scripture quotations and moral instruction and advice to the boys was printed and a copy or two presented to each lad, with instructions to have it preserved as a memento of the occasion. The little men enjoyed their entertainment and conducted themselves throughout in the most orderly manner.

CONGRESS—IMPROVEMENT IN THE CAPITOL.

Painters, cabinet-makers, upholsterers and plumbers have been busily engaged for some time renovating and revarnishing the furniture and desks, painting and retouching the walls and corners, and improving the heating and ventilating apparatus at the Capitol. All is now ready for occupation.

WORK FOR CONGRESS.

There is no business, so far as is known to the Congressmen who have arrived in the city, which will cause protracted debate in either House. The election is now over, and there will be no more investigating committees called for; and the general impression is that all important business can be finished by the 4th of March next.

THE FRENCH SPOLIATION CLAIMS.

An effort will be made by Congress to bring these long standing claims to a final settlement this winter. The claimants are here organizing a vigorous lobby to bear upon Congress; but aside from this there is a pretty general impression that the claims should be paid, or if not that the matter be finally disposed of on a fair and equitable basis.

THE JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

An important change is proposed in the working of the U. S. Supreme Court. Congress will be called upon to create an intermediate court, possessing the ordinary powers of the Supreme Court, and before which all cases shall be first argued. The auxiliary court will perform the circuit duties, and will be governed in all decisions by a construction of the laws in accordance with that of the Supreme Court.

THE INTER-OCEAN SHIP CANAL.

The Government has determined to continue the surveys this winter for a ship canal between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Two expeditions are going out, embracing able and experienced officers, many of whom were in the former expeditions. One party will complete the survey of the Nicaragua route. The other survey will be under the command of Commodore Selfridge, who is confident of being able to demonstrate the superior advantages of his Atrato river route on the southern extremity of the Isthmus of Darien. It is claimed to be the shortest of all the routes, and has a magnificent harbor at either end.

POST OFFICE MONEY ORDERS AND STAMPS.

Nearly ninety-three and a half million dollars were paid on money orders during the past year. Over nineteen and a half million dollars worth of stamps and postal envelopes were sold. Total receipts nearly $22,000,000, against less than $10,000,000 in 1861.

THE SIGNAL SERVICE.

The Signal service Bureau is organizing a flying corps of observers, fully equipped, to dispatch from point to point, as the emergencies of the weather require, to aid and extend the observations of storms reported from the permanent stations.

NO MORE NATIONAL BANKS.

No more National Banks can be organized at present, the limit of the circulation being fully reached by banks now in operation or organizing

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

There is still a division of sentiment among Republicans as to the policy that ought to be pursued in making appointments and promotions. A very considerable number of Congressmen and others here believe in the theory that "to the victors belong the spoils," and that appointments should be made on a political basis. Others, and among them the President, believe that office and advancement should be obtained only on the principle laid down in the new civil service rules, of qualifications, ascertained by competency, examination, and satisfactory evidence of good moral character. The question will be brought before Congress, but the advocates of the new system will prevail. Improvements may, however, be made in the working and details of the system.

SOCIETY IN WASHINGTON.

Almost before any considerable number of our winter visitors have arrived the gay season of social parties, receptions, and State association reunions, &c., have been inaugurated. The wife of Secretary Fish gave her first afternoon reception yesterday. Others are announced. The indications are that the season will be an unusually gay one A number of our prominent belles were led to the altar last week and within the last three days, and are now with their happy husbands on their wedding tours.

An announcement just made carries some interest with it among fashionable circles that "the wives of Cabinet Ministers will not in future, as has been the custom, return calls this winter, but will give their receptions as usual." Heretofore it was customary to return calls upon all who attended their receptions and registered their names or left cards. The custom became intolerable, and hence the change. Register books will be kept, in which callers will record their names and addresses. From this list selections will be made for the invitations.

A very good authority in society matters says: "There will be more remarkable people in Washington this winter than ever before." And many not very remarkable people, too, no doubt, we might have added. It is intimated that many prominent gentlemen from England and the Continent of Europe, accompanied by ladies, will spend a portion of the winter at Washington. Some have already arrived, and others have signified their intention of coming. At the same time quite a number of capitalists from other American cities, are building or purchasing houses here, in which to spend the winter, while others are taking up their residence permanently.

THE COTTON CROP.

The returns to the Agricultural Department show an increase of 16 per cent. in the entire cotton crop over that of last year. The total product will be about 3,450,000 bales.

AMERICAN SHIPPING.

A partial revival of ship building has taken place under the stimulus of last winter's legislation. It is the general determination of Congressmen who have arrived in the city to adopt the necessary measures to secure an early increase of American tonnage beyond that of its most prosperous experience before the war. The President will draw the attention of Congress to this subject in his Message.

Letter from London.

LONDON, ENGLAND, Nov. 9, 1872.

Dear Editor:—Since my last, mailed at Queen-town, Ireland, we have landed safely at Liverpool, and spent nearly a week in England. The last day of our voyage was told a very pleasant one. From Queenstown to Liverpool we were in sight of land nearly all the time. The green shores of Ireland on the left and the coast of Wales on the right.

Sailing up the Mercy Sunday night the light houses warning us of dangerous rocks, threw their cheerful light out toward us over the waves. The good steamer "Wyoming," which had brought us so safely over the restless Atlantic, glided quietly into the harbor and was made fast to the pier while we were sleeping. Early Monday morning we went on shore. The custom house officers gave us very little trouble. We simply threw our trunks open, and they glanced at the contents, marked the lids and passed them along. If a traveller hesitates and refuses to open his trunk at once, he may be sure the officers will make him open it, and examine it closely; but if he open it at once, he has nothing to fear, i. e. if he has no contraband articles along.

On landing I at once went to the steamer offices to procure passage to Bombay via Suez Canal, but found no steamer would sail from Liverpool for Bombay until the last of the month. We then came on to London, hoping to get passage on a steamer advertised to sail Nov. 14th, but this being the season of year for going to India we found her cabins engaged. So we are compelled to cross France and Italy by rail and sail from Genoa. This, however, gives us a chance to spend a week in London, two or three days in Paris and a week in Italy, if we wish it, as the steamer does not sail from Genoa until November 24th. Besides this our voyage that route will be only eighteen days instead of forty from London or Liverpool.

Yesterday we visited a number of places of interest. First we went to "The Albert Memorial," one of the costliest, and certainly one of the finest, monuments in the world, erected, as your readers will remember, in honor of "the Prince consort," the husband and ever-wise and faithful counsellor of the Queen Victoria. I cannot attempt a description of such a triumph of art in this brief letter. Next we went to St. Paul's, the mecca of all Church of England people. I cannot say it struck me as grand, but a feeling of awe and reverence comes over one as he walks through its dimly lighted aisles and sees the statues of England's greatest heroes gazing down upon him. From St. Paul's we went to "The Tower of London." A shilling admitted us, and an old warden, dressed in old-fashioned style with a marvelous hat—and strange to say said warden is a glib tongued Irishman—escorted us through the entire building. First we went to see "the Crown Jewels." Among them brightest of all, gleamed the far-famed "Kohinoor" (mountain of light) diamond, which once gleamed in the rich turban of old Runjeet Singh "the Lion of the Punjab." The queen's crown, valued at a million of pounds sterling, is placed above all the others. Such a mass of precious stones and gold I never saw before. Next we were taken through the armory, and through what used to be the prisons for political offenders. We were shown the block on which Lady Jane Gray and Annie Bolyn were beheaded. Also the block on which the last execution in that manner took place. The old axe stands beside it, and the mark made by it, in severing the head, is still visible. We were in the room where Sir Walter Raleigh was imprisoned for fifteen years. The walls of that part of the Tower are fifteen feet thick. The Day of Judgment alone will reveal all the deeds of darkness perpetrated within these gloomy walls.

To-day (Saturday, Nov. 9th,) has been a great day in London. This is what is called "Lord Mayor's Day." The Lord Mayor of the city, preceded by police, military, bands, and carriages containing aldermen and other city officials passed thro' certain streets in the grandest old fashioned gilt covered carriage I have ever witnessed. We had secured, through kindness of some workmen, a stand on a platform on one of the principal streets on the route and had a fine sight of the procession, which was well worth seeing. Such crowds of people I have never seen outside of India.

This being over we pushed our way through the crowd to the spot ever dear to "the people called Methodist," City Road Chapel," in which John Wesley preached so long, and behind which his body sleeps We went quietly through the plain, old building, stepped into the lofty pulpit in which the founder of Methodism used to preach—then passed out into the graveyard and paused a little while by the grave of this man to which the Christian world owes so much. Around him lie his old preachers—Watson, Bunting, Benson, and a host of noble men of God whose names are as ointment poured forth. On our way home from India, two years ago, I heard a sermon in this old church. Our missionary party have concluded to go there to preaching to-morrow night. We next walked across the street to "Bunhill Fields" grave-yard, and stood by the grave of John Bunyan. Strange that these two Johns, who have done more for the religious world than any other two men of old England, should sleep so near each other. The author of "The Pilgrim's Progress" and the founder of Methodism will be remembered gratefully by millions yet unborn.

Sight seeing is hard work, and I am too tired to write more to-night.

Nov. 12th.—I forgot to say that on our way from Liverpool to London, Nov. 6th, I bought a newspaper, published in London the night before, assuring us of the re-election of President Grant. Our party were all of one mind on that subject, so we just made the old English car ring again with a hurrah!

To-day we go to visit Westminster Abbey, the House of Parliament, &c., &c. Yesterday our party "did" the British Museum, but as I had spent a day in it two years ago, I went elsewhere. I shall probably write you again from Italy before we sail. Yours, truly,

J. D. BROWN.

Constitutional Convention.

On the outside of this paper and below will be found a number of propositions submitted to the Convention, looking to the improvement of that venerable instrument. The Convention has adjourned until after the holidays. It is well that it makes haste slowly. Constitutions are not the work of a day for a day, but the work of months for generations. Take time, and do your work well, and the people will be satisfied:

The following gentlemen offered propositions to amend the Constitution, all of which were laid on the table:

By Mr. Stanton: To provide for the election of a Lieutenant Governor, and to empower the Governor to fill all vacancies occuring in State offices.

Also, to empower the Governor to fill all vacancies occuring in either branch of the Legislature.

Also, referring all resolutions to standing committees without debate.

By Mr. M'Connell: Compelling judges to reside in the districts for which they are elected, and dividing the State into judicial districts

Abolishing the office of register of wills and transferring the duties over to the clerk of the orphans' court.

To protect the property of females acquired before marriage and also after marriage; and that her property shall never be liable for the debts of her husband.

By Mr. Wetherill (Philadelphia): Prohibiting the Legislature from passing laws regulating city and county officers.

By Mr. Wright: To prohibit the Legislature from granting power to corporations to control the rivers, creeks and streams of the commonwealth.

By Mr. Campbell: To fix the number of Senators at 50 and of the General Assembly at 225.

Also, to prohibit railroad companies from leasing coal lands and working them, and confining them to their duty as common carriers

By Mr. Rose: Judges shall not be required to reside in the district for which they are elected, and also to abolish the grand jury.

By Mr. Lambertson: Providing for the election of all judges.

Also, requiring that all bills shall be passed by a majority of the members elected in each house.

By Mr. Smith (Allegheny): Declaring that liens shall have no preference over other debts.

By Mr. Dunning: Referring all the appointments made by the Governor to the Supreme Court for confirmation or rejection.

By Mr. Church: To abolish the office of register of wills.

By Mr. Hanna: To prohibit the passage of bills containing more than one subject. No laws to be revised by a mere reference to the titles. Also, to provide for the election of a Lieutenant Governor, State Treasurer and Attorney General.

By Mr. J. M. Bailey: To prohibit railroad companies from discriminating on local freights.

By Mr. Landis: Prohibiting members on special committees of either house of the Legislature to receive extra pay

By Mr. G. W. Palmer: To amend the 8th article by prescribing an especial form of oath of office to all persons elected to positions.

By Mr. Reed (Mifflin): That no bill become a law unless passed by a majority of the members elected to each house.

By Mr. Woodward: To abolish the secret ballot.

By Mr. Cassidy: To empower judges of the Supreme Court to appoint prothonotaries in cities whose population exceeds one hundred thousand, and fix their salaries.

Also, to prohibit the Legislature from passing special laws regulating municipal affairs.

Also, to provide for the election of judges for twenty-years and make them ineligible for a second term, and prescribe qualifications.

By Mr. Russell; To provide for an appropriations of one million dollars annually to the common school fund.

By Mr. Cochran: Establishing a supreme court, a superior court, a probate court and an orphans' court, and prescribing qualifications and elections.

Also, to estabiish in every county and city containing over thirty thousand, a probate court, providing for the election of a clerk to said court, and the duties of said court.

Also, establishing a county board of three—one of whom shall be a lawyer—who shall be empowered to grant license, lay out roads and discharge the duties now performed by the county commissioners, and abolish the office of county commissioner,

Also, to establish a board of three auditors, all of whom shall be elected on the cumulative system.

Also, to elect five directors of the poor on the same system.

By Mr. Cassidy: To provide for the election of two commissioners on education in cities containing a population of over one hundred thousand.

The index finger of the left hand of Samuel Hoover, of Morrison's Cove, having been injured several weeks ago and badly treated, was obliged to be amputated, which was done successfully by Dr. Brumbaugh, in presence of Drs. Fleming and Davidson, on Saturday last.

There is one Moore less in Cambria county. His name it was Michael. His last words were "I am a sinner!" To which all responded, "Amen!" He failed to say that he was "not guilty!" for a very good reason. We have no doubt "Auld Clootie's" demand, like Oliver Twist's, for "Moore" has been gratified. The Washington Patriot has suspendee, after sinking $60,000. The Columbus Statesman has met a similar fate. A great many weekly journals have also gone under. Still there are plenty of men who persist in starting papers without first counting the cost. Editors all learn by experience. Pass the next goose to be plucked!

The Tyrone Democrat made its appearance last week. We are not acquainted with the editor, Mr. Stroop, nevertheless he has our deepest sympathy. We feel for the man who has the hardihood to attempt to run a Democratic newspaper in Tyrone or any other point in Blair county, with its newspaper for every three or four thousand inhabitants. We hope he may make it pay, but how it is to be done is not clear to us.

Cyrus Gearhart, of Manor Hill, Huntingdon county, went to Petersburg with a two-horse team to buy a stove and other houshold goods—guzzled too much of that stuff which makes fellows strike their grandmother, and started home at a furious rate. In attempting to turn a corner, the wagon upset and threw Cyrus out, breaking one of his legs and cutting an ugly gash in his head. He has been unconscious ever since and is not expected to recover. Let rum alone—Tyrone Herald.

Side Track on Allegheny Street.—Dear Journal: It seems the fate of progress to always meet with opposition. It was so eighteen hundred years since, and it is so today. And nowhere is this lurking opposition more prevalent and bold than in this, our little town of Huntingdon. Fenced in by the elements by which other towns have grown rich and spread their borders, yet cramped and ground by the actions of a few who live for to-day, and for themselves only, we are living, as it were, by the produce of others. Scarcely a manufactory within our limits, where we should be awakened at early dawn by numerous whistles in all quarters from manufactories, especially in the way of iron and lumber.

We had been led to believe that there had "a change come o'er the spirit of our dream" since the juvenile adventure of Town Clock and Fire Engine, but now comes the opposition to the railroad in the petty matter of a side track on Allegheny street. It is well known that the growing business of the Pennsylvania Railroad, through the control of the Bedford Division, calls loudly for more room at the junction, and it is also known that for some time there has been under consideration by the railway officials the project of abandoning Huntingdon, as a point of business, and locating somewhere east, entirely beyond the limits of the town; and should the lease of the Broad Top be accomplished, and the prevailing opposition still continue, we may tremble lest we be left in the cold. We unite in opposition to all unnecessary infringements and believe the Railroad Company should be looked after occasionally, as, like individuals, it will sometimes overleap bounds; but as for prohibiting the laying of a side track between Fourth and Fifth streets, on a strip contiguous to their present main track and entirely useless—an offensive gutter until filled by the Railroad Company at their own expense—and all, too, for the sake of accommodating the entrance to a stable or two, we think absurd and very detrimental to the interests of the town. We are now on the eve of advantages which may, if encouraged, result in vast benefit, and it behooves us to give the beckoning, lest enterprise be driven from our borders "and we be left desolate." "As we sow so shall we reap." Dodney.

Look to Your Own Interest.—Country dealers, wanting Fine or Common Candies, will send their orders to the Bee Hive, No. 111, Fourth st., Huntingdon, Pa. [dec.4tf.

Paid Locals.—There seems to be a good deal of misconception in regard to the use of the local columns of newspapers as advertising agencies. The proprietor of a newspaper depends largely on the profits of his advertising columns for support. The subscription rarely pays the cost of the paper The advertising columns constitute the publisher's stock in trade—the commodity which he sells to the public at stipulated prices, just as the merchant sells his goods. And yet publishers are constantly asked to insert gratuitously locals, notices, and advertisements in aid of money making enterprises. With just as much propriety might the merchant be asked to donate goods from his counter in aid of these enterprises—a favor that few would think of asking.

The sooner the public get a correct understanding of this matter the better. All local news of general interest we are glad to publish; but we sell the right of advertising local private business, and at fixed prices—whether this advertising be in aid of Lectures, Concerts, Exhibitions, or ordinary business enterprise. The fact that the enterprise has a religious or moral bearing, does not give it claim for gratuitous advertising, any more than it does on the merchant or mechanic for a donation of his goods or products. If we see fit to contribute to the enterprises, we prefer to do it as other people do, in money—demanding pay for that which we sell.

There is a question of sound morals as well as sound business in all this, which will be approved by all who care to use a little reflection.—Ex.

Stop My Paper.—Every publisher of a newspaper has heard this tremendious order from offended subscribers, imagined by the offended to be as dangerous as a stroke of lightning, but in reality more harmless than a musquito bite. A good story is told by The Philadelphia Post of Mr. Swain, the former proprietor of The Daily Ledger. By his course on some public question, on which different persons had different opinions, Mr. Swain had offended a number of readers, one of whom met him on Chestnut st., and thus accosted him: "Mr. Swain, I've stopped The Ledger." "What is that, Sir?" "I've stopped The Ledger," was the stern reply. "Is it possible?" said Mr. Swain. "My dear Sir, what do you mean? Come with me to my office." And taking the man with him, he entered the office at Third and Chestnut sts. There they found the clerks busy at their desks; then they ascended to the editorial rooms and composing rooms, where everything was going on as usual; finally they descended to the press rooms, where the engines were at work. "I thought you told me you had stopped The Ledger," said Mr. Swain. "So I have," said the offended subscriber. "I don't see the stoppage. The Ledger seems to be going on." "Oh! I mean to say—that is, that I—ah—had stopped taking it." "Is that all!" exclaimed Mr. Swain, "Why my dear Sir, you don't know how you alarmed me."

Petersburg Items.—A friend sends us the following items from Petersburg:

The several religious denominations of Petersburg convened in the M. E. Church, on Thanksgiving morning and services were opened with a fervent prayer by the Rev. M. L. Smith; Rev. J. C. Wilhelm, Pastor of the Presbyterian church, delivered an impressive and highly commended discourse from the Psalms 107: 1.

J. C. Walker is doing a large mercantile and lumber trade.

John Ross is extensively engaged in the retail coal business.

J. Cresswell & Son have their mill in excellent repair and are making the best quality of flour.

R. Myton & Son are just completing the the brick work of one of the largest houses in town.

Alex. Oaks is doing quite a thriving business in his store.

Over 4000lbs. of poultry were shipped from Petersburg station to Philadelphia.

J. R. Hunter & Co. are increasing their forge business.

Augustus Antlman is just completing a fine brick house.

J. E Weaver is building a new brick blacksmith shop.

Colburn Found.—Mr. George N. Colburn, who was to have taken charge of the Ward House, and whom we noticed last week as having mysteriously disappeared on Tuesday evening, was found at Water Street, Huntingdon county, in a deplorable condition on Friday of last week, by Mr. Roller, a contractor on the Lewisburg and Spruce Creek Railroad, and taken to Williamsburg. It seems that he had wandered about through the woods, for his clothing was nearly all torn off him and his face and head scratched and bleeding. Our informant states that his feet are so badly frozen that they have bursted open and his hands are frozen nearly off. He had about $4,000 with him when he left, which he still retained when taken to Williamsburg by Mr. Roller.—His friends were notified and he is now receiving careful medical treatment at Williamsburg. Mr. Colburn was not subject to these spells and his family and friends are much depressed in consequence of this affliction. Mrs. Colburn says that she noticed he was unusually quiet the day he disappeared, but, not suspecting anything to be wrong with him, she observed nothing else unusual in his conduct. Such in brief is what we have been able to learn, after dilligent inquiry, from half a dozen different vague and unsatisfactory stories.—Tyrone Herald.

Robbing the Dead.—The watch and pocket book of Jacob Bowser, one of the victims of the terrible disaster which occurred on the Broad Top Railroad, on the 1st of November, could not be found immediately after the accident. There was no accounting for their disappearance. At last, however, the watch has turned up. On the 26ult., it was discovered in the hands of a young man, at Bloody Run, Bedford county, employed at one of the ore banks. He had traded an over coat for it on the previous Saturday, to a man by the name of Stuart, who alleges that he met an unknown man on the railroad, between the wreck and Bloody Run, with whom he traded watches. It is supposed that Stuart took the watch from the dead body of Bowser, and, if he took the one, the presumption would be that he took the other also. The watch had been carried sometime without a chain. Stuart lives at Carlisle but he was working on the repairs at the time of the accident. The watch has been handed to Mrs. Bowser.

How to Go West.—This is an inquiry which every one should have truthfully answered before he starts on his journey, and a little care taken in examination of Routes will in many cases save much trouble, time and money.

The "C. B. & Q. R. R." running from Chicago, through Galesburg to Burlington, and the "I. B. & W. Route," running from Indianapolis, through Bloomington to Burlington, have achieved a splendid reputation in the last two years as the leading Passenger Routes to the West. At Burlington they connect with the B. & M. R. R. and form the great Burlington Route, which runs direct through Southern Iowa to Nebraska and Kansas, with close connections to California and the Territories; and passengers starting from Huntingdon county, on their way westward, cannot do better than to take the Burlington Route.

This Line has published a pamphet called "How to go West," which contains much valuable information; a large correct map of the Great West, which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the General Passenger Agent, B. & M. R. R. Burlington, Iowa.

Matters and Things on Broad Top.—Dudley, Pa., Nov. 30. 1872.—Editor Journal:—The subscriber again essays to tell your readers of doings on Broad Top—theme worthy the pen of a Cæsar or the tongue of a Cicero (perhaps). The subscriber does not claim to be able to do the subject justice; but he will do what he can, leaving those who may do better. He proposes in this chapter to speak first of railroads, last of railroads, and if space be left he may fill it with items regarding members of the human family. He gives railroads the preference in this letter, because they have the preference in all matters. It is expected that there will soon be so many railroads as to leave little room for any thing else. The ancient couplet will be altered so as to read "all the world's a railroad and all the men and women merely passengers." And what a lot of them will be so badly smashed up as not to care afterwards whether the world moves or not.

Future books on Geography, (wherein children at school are supposed to learn all that they ever know about Forms of Government and other such foolish things,) will tell us that the different Orders of Government are divided into two great classes, Primary and Secondary; and that Secondary Governments, (again classed as Republics, Kingdoms, &c.,) hold their power by the authority of, and are under the control of the Primary Governments, which are in name and in fact combinations and consolidations of Railroad Companies and like corporations. But we are going too much into generalities. This letter is not intended to teach Political Economy, but to furnish news from Broad Top; and its writer must attend more closely to business on hand.

The week ending Nov. 23, was a crushing week on Broad Top. Little smashes of parts of trains on the H. & B. T. R. R. were quite common. On Tuesday a "camel" ran off the track at Dudley. Such little things are too common to attract attention. How can a "camel" be expected always to walk in a straight and narrow path? It is better than any man could do; and we don't fault the "camel" for occasionally stepping off. On Saturday evening a tank jumped the track at Hopewell and the engine, which was backing, ran up on top of it, breaking the tank and injuring some cars of the train. On the same evening a part of a train broke loose below Dore Station and, running down a grade into the train at an increased velocity, broke up five cars. On Friday three or four cars were wrecked at Dudley by running off an unturned switch. It is said that a brakeman had gone ahead to turn the switch and was looking at it without turning it when the train ran off. This is at least the third instance, inside of a few weeks or months, of accidents caused by failures to turn switches. Not long ago a fireman went a head of his engine to turn a switch, found it right, and turned it wrong. His engine tried running up to the station on the ties, but ignominiously failed. Some persons have been so thoughtless as to accuse brakemen and others of making too much use of the forty rod article; but we wouldn't for a moment suppose that any officer or employee of the H. & B. T. R. R. would touch, taste or handle anything intoxicating. Never!

Things promise to become livelier on Broad Top. We understand there is sufficient motive power on the railroad to do all the work demanded of it. Provided too much is not demanded. The new piece of road at Saxton will soon be in use (the new bridge has been in use for weeks) and the road will be safe and pleasant to travel over. The managers of the "New York Company" (if anybody knows what company that is) were here a week ago; and it is promised that at the "New York Bank" work will be resumed by the first of the year. This will give Coalmont a chance of looking up again. Work is to be resumed also at "Dudley Slope;" and a slope or shaft is to be sunk to the vein beneath the one heretofore worked.

At last we are to have an East Broad Top Railroad. Eleven miles of it, from Mt. Union to Orbisonia, are being graded; and the whole of it may be graded by another season. Two mines are being opened on the land of Roberts' heirs one or two miles east of Broad Top City; and forty new houses are to be erected there in the Spring. All of which looks as if somebody meant business.

Perhaps everybody don't know yet that Broad Top City has a steam mill. It has though. And the engine which runs that mill has a whistle. Nobody within five miles has failed to discover that fact. Fourteen times daily is heard its treble tone, each time strung out to a full note of ten to twenty minutes duration. How the machinery is arranged to allow of such long notes being performed on one whistle is above the comprehension of the writer; but the fact remains. That engine is the longest winded animal that travels on Broad Top. We learn that Messrs. D R. P. Flenner and Edward Pool are about reorganizing a Good Templar Lodge at Broad Top City. Success attend them. They have a very good field to operate in.

Dudley has a singing school. And Dudley has some good singers. It ought to have. We cannot tell how many times a week its singers meet to practice, but we would say eight times at a rough guess. When Dudley undertakes to do a thing it goes at it in earnest. Dudley has one of the best Sunday Schools in the county. Scarcely a Sabbath in summer or winter that this school does not have two sessions; and its branch at Minersville is kept up through out the year. There is not in the county so active a Sunday School man as the Superintendent of the Dudley S. S., Rev. John Palmer. Taken all in all there is not likely a church of even larger size in the county, as well attended, where as many meetings are held, and where as much good is done as at the Dudley Union Church.

And now Dudley has "Societas Literatorum." If the reader knows what a Societas Literatorum is he knows more than the Subscriber, who has failed to find an account of such a thing after a careful search in fourteen dictionaries, twenty-seven encyclopædias, a Pike's arithemetic, and the Constitution of the United States. But there is one in Dudley. And this calls to mind the promise made at the outset that this letter would discourse first and last and mostly of railroads. But the said letter has already become too long; and the further consideration of railroads will be postponed, to be resumed on a future occasion.

Tribute of Respect.—Whereas, In the mysterious dispensation of an All Wise Kishamanataw, he has seen fit to remove from the forest of life our beloved brother, A. P. Decker; therefore, be it Resolved, That in this dispensation we recognize the hand of an All Wise Kishamanataw, an overruling Spirit, that controls the destinies of men, and to whose fiat we must humbly and reverently bow.

Resolved, That by the death of our late brother our Order is deprived of a worthy member, society of an honest and upright citizen, and his wife of a kind husband and his children of a kind father.

Resolved, That the members of Arrapahoe Tribe No. 68, condole with the bereaved family in their affliction.

Resolved, That as a mark of respect our Wigwam be draped in mourning, and that the members thereof wear the usual badge of mourning for the period of thirty suns.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the county papers, and that a copy be presented to the family of the deceased brother.

Prospectus for 1873—Sixth Year.

THE ALDINE,

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for sale in Book or News Stores.

The Aldine, while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light, and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of the Aldine will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, The Aldine is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides!

ART DEPARTMENT.

Notwithstanding the increase in the price of subscription last Fall, when The Aldine assumed its present noble proportions and representative character, the edition was more than doubled during the past year; proving that the American public appreciate, and will support, a sincere effort in the cause of Art. The publishers, anxious to justify the ready confidence thus demonstrated, have exerted themselves to the utmost to develop and improve their work; and the plans for the coming year, as unfolded by the monthly issues, will astonish and delight even the most sanguine friends of The Aldine.

The publishers are authorized to announce designs from many of the most eminent artists of America.

In addition, The Aldine will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success, and greatest general interest; avoiding such as have become familiar, through photographs or copies of any kind.

The quarterly tinted plates, for 1873, will reproduce four of John S. Davis' inimitable child-sketches, appropriate to the four seasons. These plates, appearing in the issues for January, April, July, and October, would be alone worth the price of a year's subscription.

The popular feature of a copiously illustrated "Christmas" number will be continued.

To possess such a valuable epitome of the art world, at a cost so trifling, will command the subscriptions of thousands in every section of the country; but, as the usefulness and attractions of The Aldine can be enhanced, in proportion to the numerical increase of its supporters, the publishers propose to make "assurance double sure" by the following unparalled offer of

PREMIUM CHROMOS FOR 1873.

Every subscriber to The Aldine, who pays in advance for the year 1873, will receive, without additional charge, a pair of beautiful oil chromos, after J. J. Hill, the eminent English painter. The pictures, entitled "The Village Belle," and "Crossing the Moor," are 14x20 inches—are printed from 5 different plates, requiring 25 impressions and tints to perfect each picture. The same chromos are sold for $5.0 per pair in the art stores. As it is the determination of its conductors to keep The Aldine out of the reach of competition in every department, the chromos will be found correspondingly ahead of any that can be offered by other periodicals. Every subscriber will receive a certificate, over the signature of the publishers, guaranteeing that the chromos delivered shall be equal to the samples furnished the agent, or the money will be refunded. The distribution of pictures of this grade, free to the subscribers to a five dollar periodical, will mark an epoch in the history of Art; and, considering the unprecedented cheapness of the price for The Aldine itself, the marvel falls short of a miracle, even to those best acquainted with the achievements of inventive genius and improved mechanical appliances. (For illustrations of these chromos, see November issue of The Aldine.)

THE LITERARY DEPARTMENT

will continue under the care of Mr. Richard Henry Stoddard, assisted by the best writers and poets of the day, who will strive to have the literature of The Aldine always in keeping with its artistic attractions.

TERMS.

$5 per annum, in advance, with Oil Chromos free

The Aldine will, hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local agent, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificate is given, bearing the fac-simile signature of James Sutton & Co.

Farm for Sale.

The undersigned will offer at Private Sale, the farm upon which he now resides, situated in Juniata township, Huntingdon County, on Piny Ridge, about three miles from Huntingdon, containing 240 acres, about one-half cleared and in a good state of cultivation and the balance timbered with Chestnut, Pine and Oak. The improvements are a good log weatherboarded house, a log barn, cornerib and other out buildings. Also a good bearing orchard, and about 100 young apple and about 200 young peach trees, in fine growing order. Also a good supply of cherry and plum trees, a well of good water near the door, also a never failing spring which gives a good supply for the stock.

There is a School House on the Farm. For further particulars, call upon the premises or address the undersigned at Huntingdon, Pa.

A Splendid Lot of Timber
Land for Sale within One and a Half Miles of Altoona.

The Nearest Stone Quarry to the City.

2,000,000 Feet of Lumber and 5,000 Cords of Wood.

The undersigned will sell, at private sale, a large tract of timber land, containing 364 Acres, lying within one and a half miles of Altoona, adjoining lands of the Altoona Water Company on the north and east, and lands of the heirs of Elias Baker on the south and west.

The Public Road leading to and from Sinking Valley and the Water Supply of Altoona pass through it.

Competent judges assert that there are at least 2,000,000 feet of excellent mixed lumber upon it, consisting of pine, hemlock, oak, &c.

There are several splendid Water Powers upon it.

At least 5,000 cords of wood can be taken off of it, in addition to the lumber, and a ready market is always at hand.

There are also stone enough, for building purposes, to supply the city for many years to come, and it is claimed to be the nearest quarry to the city.

Persons wishing to purchase will address

A Splendid Farm at Newton Hamilton.

We will sell the magnificent farm adjoining the village of Newton Hamilton, in Mifflin county containing one hundred and sixty acres of land one hundred and fifty of which are cleared and in a fine state of cultivation, forty-five acres consist of an island, that never overflows, and which is in the highest state of cultivation. The building are a large double-floor bank barn, two good dwelling houses, blacksmith shop, store and spring house. There is an abundance of Limestone on it. There is also great quantities of water, the canal and river passing through it besides a number of excellent springs. Ten acres are covered with good timber. It is the farm adjoining the Camp Ground of the Juniata Valley Camp Meeting Association, and only one-fourth of a mile from the buildings to the railway station. A number of lots would no doubt find ready sale. There's no more desirable property along the line of the railroad. Price, $12,000, a dower of $4,000 to remain in: $2,000 in hand and the balance (6,000) in three equal annual payments with interest, to be secured in the usual manner.

Farm and Household.

Economy in Good Roads.

There is no economy in "saving at the spigot and losing at the bung." There is no economy in parsimony in road making and paying treble or quadruple to wagon makers, blacksmiths and harness makers Uneven road beds, gulleys and boulders tax a man more heavily in purse and are more vexatious to spirit than his part of the cost constructing and maintaining a road as "level and smooth as a barn floor." Men don't get rich, or are a long time getting rich, just because they don't begin right. What is the use of toiling to save crops if a share of the profits is lost in getting them to market? A man starts to his nearest town with a ton of hay from which he expects to realize ten to fifteen dollars. He runs into a gully, tips over, and a half a day is lost to himself and team in getting straightened up; or he loses a tire, breaks some part of his wagon, or casts a shoe, because of a boulder or something else that shouldn't be there—out comes his purse for repairs, and away goes an hour or more of his time But the cost and loss of his time is not all—he gets fretted, worried in spirit, and becomes exceedingly unamiable, boorish and bearish. And this last is no first rate evidence of his civilization—traced back to his imperfect road bed. A poor road in a populous community costs enough, incidentally (and accidentally), in the course of twelve months—shall we say it?—to macadamize its whole length, and to give something almost as durable as the "everlasting hills."

Our old system of road working needs alteration. It does not meet the wants of the people to day. It is too antiquated and too imperfect to be recognized as in harmony with the spirit of the age. It needs thorough revision. What scholar and philanthropist can devise a system that will combine thoroughness of structure, completeness of detail and no waste of the people's money? Such a man will be the benefactor of the rural districts, and as justly entitled to reverential memory as any inventor of the age.—Chautauqua Farmer.

Ashes as a Cattle Feed.

One of our substantial subscribers, in a recent conversation, gave his experience in training neat stock affected with the habit of eating wood, chewing bones, etc. His cattle were one spring affected this way; they became thin in flesh, refused to eat hay, and presented a sickly appearance.—He had no impression that their food lacked the constituents for making bone. but his neighbor used bone meal without noticing any good result whatever. At last he put about four bushels of leached ashes in his barn-yard, and threw out to them a shovelful each day. They all ate as if with evident relish. After turning them out to pasture, he put one peck of dry ashes per week on the ground in the pasture.—They ate it all up, and gnawed off the grass where it had been lying. The cattle began to improve, gaining flesh and looking better than they had done for several years. He says this morbid appearance was unnoticed years ago, from the fact that the ground was new and ashy from the burning of the woods and land clearings. Laterly he gives one quart of ashes, mixed with the same quantity of salt, to twelve head of cattle about once a week.—Live Stock Journal.

To Prevent Cattle Jumping.

A correspondent of the Vermont Farmer thus describes an improved yoke or jumping stick: First, but a piece across the horns. Then have a piece of hard wood board, one-half or three-fourths inch thick and about three feet long. Have a hole inserted in the bar across the horns in such a way that when this hard wood strip is inserted in it, running out over the back, as the animal naturally carries its head, the rear end will be just free of the back. Drive three or four shingle nails, ground sharp, into this end, letting them come through three-fourths of an inch, so that as soon as the animal makes an effort to raise his head to jump the fence, the nails will soundly prick his back, and he will be apt to frisk his tail and start for some feed that is easier to be obtained. For cheapness and durability this arrangement is unequalled. It weighs less than three pounds; it is not in the way in traveling around, and when the animal lies down it is on one side, as it is natural for the animal to throw its head opposite to the side it lies on. When they are feeding it is upright in the air. It will keep the animal to which it is applied where he belongs, sure.

Bee Feed.

Bees cannot be fed without going to some expense; but every one is desirous of obtaining something cheap and reliable, if possible. I have been experimenting on artificial bee feed on a large scale, and am now convinced that an artificial feed can be made that will answer as well as the honey gathered from the flowers, and at about one-fourth of its value.

To test the merits of this bee feed, I selected five colonies on the 15th of October last, and gave them nothing but empty combs, and fed them with my artificial feed ever since, and all five are in a thriving condition at the present writing, January 5th. The five colonies have consumed about thirty pounds since I began feeding.

The feed I prepare as follows: To ten pounds of sugar I add three pounds of water, and bring to a boil, remove the scum and add one ounce of gum arabic finely pulverized, one pound infusion of slippery elm, six and a half pounds of corn starch of the consistency of thick molasses, and two tablespoonfuls of salt. The whole is well mixed, and when cold it is ready for use.—Cor. Journal of the Farm.

LADIES clean their black dresses, silk, cashmere or alpacca, of last season, with borax and tepid water. A teaspoonful of borax to a quart of water. Apply with a black woolen rag or nail brush.

WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL.

NATURE'S GREAT REMEDY

FOR THE

THROAT AND LUNGS.

It is gratifying to us to inform the public that Dr. L. Q. C. Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial, for Throat and Lung Diseases, has gained an enviable reputation from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and from thence to some of the first families Europe, not through the press alone, but by persons throughout the States actually benefitted and cured at his office. While he publishes less, so say our reporters, he is unable to supply the demand. It gains and holds its reputation—

First. Not by stopping cough, but by loosening and assisting nature to throw off the unhealthy matter collected about the throat and bronchial tubes, which causes irritation.

Second. It removes the cause of irritation (which produces cough) of the mucous membrane and bronchial tubes, assists the lungs to act and throw off the unhealthy secretions, and purifies the blood.

Third. It is free from squills, lobelia, ipecac and opium, of which most throat and lung remedies are composed, which allay cough only, and disorganize the stomach. It has a soothing effect on the stomach, acts on the liver and kidneys, and lymphatic and nervous regions, thus reaching to every part of the system, and in its invigorating and purifying effects it has gained a reputation which it must hold above all others in the market.

VINEGAR BITTERS——PURELY VEGETABLE—FREE FROM ALCOHOL—

Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters.

No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means; and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructions of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. In these complaints it has no equal, and one bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Grateful Thousands proclaim Vinegar Bitters the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

HEALTH! BEAUTY!!

Strong and pure rich blood—increase of flesh and weight—clear skin and beautiful complection secured to all.

DR RADWAY'S

Sarsaparillian Resolvent has made the most astonishing cures; so quick, so rapid are the changes the body undergoes under the influence of this truly wonderful medicine, that every day an increase in flesh and weight is seen and felt.

The Great Blood Purifier.

Every drop of the Sarsaparillian Resolvent communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine and other fluids and juices of the system the vigor of life, for it repairs the wastes of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease Ulcers in the Throat, Mouth, Tumors, Nodes in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumous Discharges from the Ears, and the worst form of Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Fever Sores, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Ache, Black Spots, Worms in the flesh, Tumors, Cancers in the Womb, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm, and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonder of Modern Chemistry, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its potent power to cure them.

In the pat ent, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting the wasts, and repairs the same with new material made from healthy blood—and this the sarsaparillian will and does secure.

Not only does the Sarsaparillian Resolvent excel all known remedial agents in the cure of Chronic, Scrofulous Constitutional, and skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney & Bladder Complaints,

Uniary and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy Stoppage of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminuria, and in all cases where they are brick-dust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of an egg, or threads like white silk, or there is morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust deposits, and when there is a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the back and along the Loins Price, $100.

Tumor of 12 Years' Growth Cured by Radway's Resolvent.

BEVERLY, MASS., July 18, 1869.

DR. RADWAY:—I have had Ovarian Tumor in the ovaries and bowels. All the Doctors said "there was no help for it." I tried every thing that was recommended; but nothing helped me. I saw your Resolvent, and thought I would try it; but had no faith in it, because I had suffered for twelve years. I took six bottles of the Resolvent, and one box of Radway's Pills and two bottles of your Ready Relief; and there is not a sign of a tumor to be seen or felt, and I feel better, smarter, and happier than I have for twelve years. The worst tumor was in the left side of the bowels, over the groin. I write this to you for the benefit of others. You can publish this if you choose.

SURPRISING.

It is really surprising how rapidly

Dr. Wengert's Family Medicines

are becoming popular all over the country. Thousands are daily praising them for their many virtues and say they would not be without them in their families. To you who have never tested them, we would say if you have Fever and Ague you cannot do better than use

DR. WENGERT'S MOUNTAIN HERB BITTERS.

For Liver Complaints, Scrofulous Affections and Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, use

THE INDIAN VEGETABLE Restorative and Blood Purifier.

Dr. Wengert's Magic Balm

has no superior for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis and Diseases of the Respiratory Organs.

THE SAMSON OIL

need only to be tried to convince the most incredulous that it will cure Nervous Headache, Cholera Morbus, Colic, Cramps, Sprains, Bruises, &c.

Dr. Wengert's Hepatica Pills

are an Alternative Cathartic, and can be used for an ordinary Cathartic or Physic, and should always be use in connection with the MOUNTAIN HERB BITTERS in severe cases of Fever and Ague. We know that there is continually being palmed upon the people some wonderful preparation that is without merit or virtue, therefore the people lose confidence in preparations that do possess virtue. Yet it would certainly be unwise and unreasonable to condemn all the various remedies offered to the public because some are disgraceful humbugs. All we ask is for you to give a fair trial, and if they are not deserving of your praise and confidence, then denounce them in your strongest terms.

A FEW REASONS

WHY THE

ARION PIANO

IS SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS:

The ARION PIANO-FORTE has greater power than any other Piano-Forte manufactured.

It will Stand in Tune Longer, and in its mechanical construction it is more perfect, and, therefore, more durable, than any instrument constructed in the usual modern style.

The arrangement of the Agraffe, the manner of stringing, the peculiar form and arrangement of the Iron Frame

SUPERCEDES ALL OTHERS

The use of a bar (which is a part of the Iron Frame on a line with the heavy steel stringing,) gives where most needed, and in this respect all other pianoes fail.

The construction of the WREST PLANK, into which the tuning Pins are inserted, is such that it is impossible for the pins to come loosened, or the Wrest Plank itself to split, as is too often the case in other Piano-Fortes.

The Extraordinary Evenness

throughout the scale, the excellent Singing Quality, the

LENGTH AND PURITY OF VIBRATION,

all go to prove what we claim, viz: that the

ARION PIANO-FORTE

Is the Best Instrument Manufactured.
